DAYS OF DIZZINESS

Come to Hundreds of Norway People.

There are days of dizziness;
Spells of headache, languor, backache;
Sometimes rheumatic pains;
Often urinary disorders.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney ills.

Endorsed in Norway by grateful friends and neighbors.

Mrs. W. J. Olmstead, 95 Main St., Norway, says: "My kidneys began to give me trouble as they were weak. My back ached so badly I could hardly get through with my housework and everything I undertook to do seemed a drag. I was dizzy and could see star-like spots before my eyes. My feet and ankles swelled. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills being good and sent for some. When I had finished taking them, I felt as well as ever. The backache ceased and my kidneys became regulated. I have told a number of people about Doan's."

"NO CHANCE?"

"With doubt and dismay you are smitten,
You think there is no chance for your son?
Why the best books haven't been written,
The best race hasn't been run.
The best score hasn't been made yet,
The best song hasn't been sung.
The best tune hasn't been played yet,
Clear up, for the world is yet young.
"The best verse hasn't been rhymed yet,
The best house hasn't been planned yet,
The highest peak hasn't been climbed yet,
The mightiest rivers aren't spanned;
Don't worry and fret, faint-hearted,
The chances have just begun
For the best jobs haven't been started,
The best work hasn't been done."

MATCHES vs GASOLINE

It would seem as if it takes some people a long time to learn that it costs lives to take a lighted match to see if the gas tank is empty.

Every few weeks, or days even, we read in the papers where someone does this foolhardy trick and one or two lie dead each time as the result. How much better it would be to lose a few quarts of gasoline, or even get killed, than the God-forsaken match.

It is pretty safe to say, that if you want trouble, you will get it by the route of the lighted match and the gasoline tank.

CONCERNING THE STRUCTURE OF THE GALAXY

Only one star, some 8.7 light years away, exceed in brilliancy a first magnitude star, Sirius. All the others are ranked in power of brightness which diminishes to the 20th, and is near the limit to which our largest telescopes reach, and this is done photographically. The great 100" Hooker reflector ought to reveal 21st. magnitude stars.

The 20th magnitude corresponds to a distance of 67,000 parsecs or on 214,400 light years from the sun (or from the earth). Assuming this as the radial distance, and that other objects reasonably exist at a like distance but in an opposite direction, we would have a span or diameter of the creation of nearly 430,000 light years, as we now know it.

The remotest object for which a definite estimate has yet been made is of the faint globular cluster known as 7006 (New General Catalog) about 65,000 parsecs, more than 200,000 light years, obtained by 3 or 4 different methods with the 100" reflector at Mt. Wilson, Cal.

Clusters of stars can be placed in two fairly distinct categories, the globular cluster of which nearly 90 are now known and the open or loose clusters of which there are several hundreds.

Few stars in globular clusters are brighter than the eleventh apparent magnitude. Each globular cluster contains some tens thousands of these intrinsic bright stars and possibly a far greater number of dwarfs which at present are beyond the reach of our telescopes.

According to authorities, if obstructing material were removed we might see near the galactic plane, clouds of faint Milky Way stars still more dazzling than those observed, and globular clusters still more distant than those now known and hence find that the greatest diameter of the galactic system is even larger than the value now assigned—100,000 parsecs.

"We find that the globular clusters range in distance from seven thousand parsecs to values nearly ten times as great." Their diameters are of the order of a hundred parsecs (320 light years). Their brightest stars are a thousand times as bright as the sun. It appears as has been suspected that the globular clusters are a part of the Milky Way system.

In measuring the distances of the remotest globular clusters we are but measuring the depth of our own galactic system. No open clusters have yet been found outside the Milky Way region, but hundreds are known within it. One property they have in common, they are all near the plane of the Milky Way. The average distance of open clusters is smaller than that of the globular clusters. Open clusters are of great variety. They range in brightness from naked eye systems such as the Hyades to small groupings that may be nothing more than chance aggregations of faint Milky Way stars.

Any estimate of the stellar distances that approach reliability has come to us within the last twenty or twenty-five years. The first great advance came with the application of more powerful spectroscopes and the boundless patience required to make photographic exposures, lasting ten, twenty and even forty hours, work every clear night and to adjust the apparatus, light tight between times.

PRESIDENT HARDING ON SAVING

President Harding has often shown his interest in the savings movement and has personally invested in Treasury Savings Certificates, the valuable savings security issued by the U. S. Treasury Department. In a speech at Salt Lake City, Utah, the President said:

"The World, its Government, its quasi-public corporations, its people acquired the spending habit during the war to an extent not merely unprecedented but absolutely alarming. There is but one way for the community finally to get back on its feet and that is to go seriously about paying its debts and reducing its expenses. That is what the world must face. The greatest and richest Government must face it and so must the humblest citizen.

"No habit is so easy to form, none so hard to break, as that of reckless spending. And on the other side, none is more certain to contribute to security and happiness than the habit of thrift, of savings, of careful management in all business concerns, of balanced budgets and living within incomes.

"If I could urge upon the American people a single rule applicable to every one of them as individuals, and to every political or corporate unit among them, it would be to learn to spend somewhat less than your income all the time. If you have debts, reduce them as rapidly as you can; if you are one of the fortunate few who have no debts, make it a rule to save something every year.

"I would have our Government adequate in every locality and in every activity, and public sentiment will demand it and secure it, and require no more, if we may have the simple and thrifty life which makes the healthful nation."

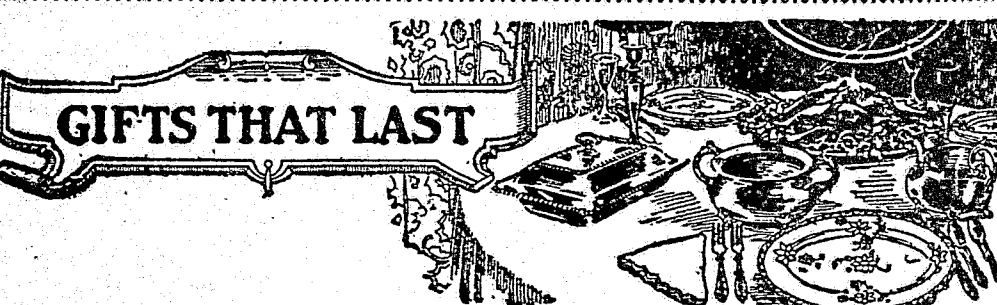

OLD SOL

That is the name that is usually applied to the sun when it gets good and hot. Now Old Sol can make it pretty uncomfortable for us sometimes, now it is our business to work against Old Sol when he gets down to a business basis. How well we succeed is proven by the enormous amount of hot weather wearing apparel we sell every year to the Men and Young Men. Have you got your outfit yet? That is the necessary clothing to meet Old Sol with and meet him with a smile. We are ready to fight him good and hard.

A Buick Closed Car Built For Summer Driving

The Buick Six Cylinder Touring Sedan is particularly popular because it combines perfectly the many advantages of the open touring model with the luxury and convenience of a fine closed car.

The wide windows provide touring model airiness; yet in case of a summer shower or dust storm, a turn of the hand instantly protects the occupants without obstructing their vision.

Buick traditional performance, power dependability and riding comfort are worthily typified in this Touring Sedan.

Max Bonney took Earl Staples' family to Sweden, Sunday, to visit George Ridlon's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byram of Yarmouthville are visiting her mother, Mrs. Lilla Palmer.

During the fine hay weather of the past two weeks, much well-made hay has been stored in the barns, in spite of the scarcity of help. Many of the women folks have gone valiantly into the hayfields and done their best to help out on the work.

One dark night Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gammon, who sleep on their veranda, heard a coon prowling around their chicken house. Harold seized his gun and Edith seized a light, and after a lively chase, they secured the would-be chicken thief. A more even contest than the case of "Me and my Betty killed a b'ar."

Valer seems to be a family characteristic. A few years ago a newspaper account told that Mrs. V. P. DeCoster (Edith's mother) found a ferocious hen-hawk in her chicken house and, single handed, she fought and killed him.

WATERFORD ROAD

A few days ago one of our summer guests who is spending the summer near Waterford, called at the Advertiser office and said, "Do you know that that new Waterford road is being ruined?"

Heavy trucks are running in ruts and are chewing it all to pieces. If the heavy trucks would avoid making the ruts and use the rest of the road, there would be no trouble, but as it is going now, that road will be ruined before the end of this season."

This summer guest has had experience with good roads and cautions that many bad roads. He gives us a word of warning and requests we pass it on with the hope that the Waterford road may be saved from being torn to pieces by thoughtless driving of the heavy trucks. Avoid ruts!

Note: One hundred years ago in March a new post office was established at Fuller's Corner, now North Norway. Jonathan Swift was postmaster.

RESTORED TO GOOD HEALTH, MOTHER AND CHILDREN GRATEFUL

In East Boston, Mass., at 23 Lamson Street, a contented family of three children and the mother live, daily thanking in silence the kind neighbor who helped them when they were sick. Mrs. Nellie Woodford is the mother and she writes the following letter to Dr. J. F. True & Co.:

"Having heard about your medicine from my neighbors and druggist, I wondered if your Dr. True's Elixir wasn't what I needed. I was a hard-working woman, working six hours every day for the Penn Realty Trust Company in Boston. In doing this work I use a lot of strength. Besides this, looking after my house and the care of my three children wore me out.

I always had one special doctor for myself and the children, but he was out of town when I was sick. I took medicine from the druggist which my friends brought in, but nothing did any good. My bowels were out of order. My breath bad, and I was shaky all over. Worst of all the terrible headaches came. It seemed I had suffered years before you Dr. True's Elixir was brought to me by a neighbor.

After a short time I began to cheer up and be myself again. My bowels were soon in order and I noticed that the dizzy spells had left me. I think your Elixir wonderful. I feel full of gratitude towards Dr. True's Elixir.

The children sometimes eat things which don't agree with them, when I am not around to see, and then cramps and constipation follow. I just got out my bottle of Dr. True's Elixir and find no trouble in getting them to take some. It is easy to take. Their bowels are soon all right. It may interest you to know that recently my youngest child was terribly sick and it was a serious case. We all have our Elixir to thank for relieving her of stomach worms. When I gave it to Louise it acted like magic, and fixed her up only after two doses."

Signs of worms are: Constipation, hard and full stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, and occasional pains, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nostrils, and short, dry coughs, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep with troublesome dreams, slow fever. A SUGGESTION

We were reading in the paper of the changes taking place.
 And how the Ford and Durant each are keeping pace.
 Plain Ford Corner is the new name for Crockett Ridge.
 While to locate Durant Avenue you must cross the meadow bridge.
 Now we need a new guide board at the parting of the road.
 Where one "street" leads to Durant and the other leads to Ford.
 It should be spiked up solid, to be quickly read.
 And not used for a target to be splintered up with lead.
 In these times of "snappy" Durants and jolly little Fords,
 It is very convenient to have plenty of guide boards.
 If it is just plain or sporty, driving Fords and Durants do the trick.
 But to be real classy, you need an Oakland Six.

Community Chautauqua

critics concede this group the best Scottish entertainers who have ever appeared in this vicinity.
 Thomas F. L. Henderson, Analyst of La Salle Extension University in Chicago lectured Saturday evening, his subject was "A Personal Inventory." This was a personal appeal based on three propositions, namely, "Where do I want to go?" secondly, "What is the cost of getting there?" thirdly, "Am I willing to pay the price?" The entire lecture was along suggestive lines.
 The speakers offered no pullman accommodations over short routes to success, it means a vision then hard work. He believes genius is outgrowth of perspiration from the hardest labors. Success is impossible unless one is intensely interested in the thing he is doing. If enthusiasm is lacking take a personal inventory, and find the cause. The world is full of misfits but success is up to the individual willing to pay the price. Mr. Henderson emphasized there are too many doing only what they are paid for, accordingly "getting by" along the lines of the least resistance. They lack a vision.

The speaker defined success as not measured wholly in dollars and cents. Character, and the performance of deeds worth well known in musical circles. Mr. Henderson said more essential than wealth. Many of our best investments may never return a nickel, but what an immense income from the knowledge of having accomplished something useful and uplifting. Success doesn't come by unusual opportunity and "It is not the way the wind blows but the way the sails are set" which will bring success in life.

Religious Services

About 1000 attended the union religious services in the Chautauqua tent Sunday evening where Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, of Atlanta, Georgia, preached a strong sermon, developing the text, "God so loved that he gave," from the third chapter of John's gospel, a part of the sixteenth verse. The main thought was, we can give without love, but we cannot love without giving, and we usually give in proportion to our love. As a rule the degree of love can be measured by the extent of our gifts.

God so loved that he gave himself to the world, therefore, as finite beings we should give ourselves entirely to Him and His service, which is the least we may do to show our love.

The order of exercises included:
 Vantage, Harry Box of Old Orchard Hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King," Prayer, Rev. Fred Bonnier of South Paris, Mr. and Mrs. George Bonnier, Solo, Harry Box, Old Orchard Scripture Reading, James 2:1-5, Rev. T. G. Chapman of Norway, Episcopal Church.
 Solo, Harry Box of Old Orchard Hymn, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," Solo, Harry Box of Old Orchard Hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," Rev. H. G. McGowan of the Deering Memorial Church, South Paris, presided.
 Mr. and Mrs. Box were in charge of the music with Mrs. Box as accompanist. Both resided in Norway several years and were known to many of the audience.

Dr. Bartlett presented a fine concert. The repertoire offered a pleasing variety including popular marches, gems from the Operas, and tuneful arrangements of old time songs. Castellucci is not only a director in musical variety, but a virtuoso on the piano and violin. He rendered the Poet and Peasant overture on the xylophone and appeared with the steel guitar and sweet potato whistle in several numbers. Dear to the heart of old timers was the melody of songs popular thirty years ago, "Little Annie Rooney," "Streets of New York," "Comrades," "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and others.
 The band also entertained in the afternoon and the "Music Memory Contest" for the juniors was won by Reta Shaw and Musa Taylor of South Paris, Caroline Downing and Alice Harriman of Norway.

The evening program was suspended a few minutes to pay tribute to the memory of Dr. H. E. Bartlett late of Norway. Dr. Bartlett was one of the first subscribers when Community Chautauqua started here eight years ago, and had labored every season to keep the institution. Dr. Bartlett attended Chautauqua Friday evening and passed away suddenly early Saturday morning. His funeral was Monday afternoon. The audience stood with bowed heads while the band played "Nearer My God To Thee."

Another Season of Chautauqua
 Rev. Chester G. Miller took charge of the drive for season tickets to guarantee Chautauqua another year. Five hundred were needed, but the subscribers on the contract voted not to turn over this paper until at least 700 tickets were pledged. It was announced if 600 could be secured, two persons in the Twin Towns would take the other hundred.
 Up to Monday evening only 293 pledges had been received, leaving 307 to make within a few minutes. Rev. Mr. Miller got busy with a large group of assistants to canvass the audience. Supt. Frain handled the score board and chalked down the "runs" as they crossed the plate. Pledges came in one's, two's, and fives. The last fifty hung fire but Rev. Mr. Miller never let up with the canvass until the number was reduced to 3, these he subscribed for and the contract was passed to the superintendent by President E. N. Swett amid loud applause.

This 300 margin over the contract has been necessary to pay deficit accumulating annually the past few years. Next summer the local association will have its expenses assured and go after it with renewed courage and confidence from this generous support.

Chautauqua Comments
 Total attendance for the evening performances was approximately 4800. Audiences numbered between 700 and 900 each evening with no less than 400 each afternoon.
 Charles W. Bowker as superintendent of the grounds, had a care for the comfort of the tent crew and chautauqua superintendent. The assistant superintendent and tentman had sleeping quarters in the executive building and regular hotel accommodations.

The new stage equipment was a great improvement over previous years. A drop curtain superseded the former type and the color scheme of green and white was attractive.

Season tickets went like hot cakes the first two days. Chautauqua opened with many short of the necessary 500. Within two days the number went over the top and 40 to the good. A large number of single admissions have been sold with

"play night" showing the record of 77 adult tickets at a dollar apiece.
 This outfit arrived from Princeton and jumped to Morrisville, Vt., the talent came from Livermore Falls with the next stand at Bethel. They traveled with automobiles.
 The police had little to do except to handle traffic through the main gate and park the cars. Those on duty were special officers L. A. Hall, John Prince, Horace Kimball, Ernest Shaw and Leslie McAllister. One hundred and twenty-three cars were handled on play night, the smallest number appeared Saturday night.

Chairs and settees carried in the outfit seat approximately 750. It was necessary for the local committee to furnish additional seats to accommodate the overflow.

We had the proverbial Chautauqua weather, hot, dry and dusty. With an exception in 1922 this rule has not been broken in eight years. A little sprinkle Monday afternoon merely laid the dust and moistened the brown top without effecting the attendance.

Mrs. Frain, the superintendent, talked interestingly to the Junior department of the Deering Memorial Sunday school at South Paris on Sunday. Mr. Frain was called to Berlin, N. H., on that day for a conference of superintendents. Forgetting from one year to another is a human characteristic, but the expression is common, "This has been the best program since before the war." This is the general sentiment and the splendid entertainments prove President Whiteside true to his word made this tenth Chautauqua anniversary one long to be remembered.

Junior Chautauqua
 Mrs. Frain, the play leader, kept about one hundred youngsters entertained during Chautauqua week. Her assistants were Josephine Chase, Norway, and Florence Leach, South Paris, and they had a busy session.

Much of the time was devoted to games, story telling and team work for the teaching of self control and good sportsmanship. Rehearsals for the pageant were held each day with a Robin Hood hike, a venison roast and other pleasing side lines to break up a suggestion of monotony.

The Juniors organized with the following officers: President, Harriet McAllister; secretary, Irene Neviers; treasurer, Wilma Calef. These officers are also to serve during the year in the Junior Chautauqua which has become permanent under the local play leaders. Meetings are to be held at least once in two weeks and winter sports featured. With indoor games, luncheon parties and musicals with other entertainment, the winter should pass quickly. This department has a fund of approximately $85 drawing interest. It was started for a play ground equipment, but a portion may be used for the purchase of a library adapted to Junior Chautauqua work.

Children's hour as a part of the program Saturday afternoon brought before the public considerable local talent and artists in the making. Each actor and actress performed like a regular Broadway star and received generous applause. Program was as follows:
 Pillow Drill, Group of Boys
 Japanese Drill, Group of Girls
 Sailor Dance, Musa Taylor, South Paris
 Piano Duet, Grace and Margaret McAllister
 Sketch, Goldilocks and the Three Bears with Walking Doll, Reta Shaw, South Paris
 Mrs. Frain is a born leader and familiar with the work. She is "all right" according to the Juniors who are both judge and jury in the case.

Report of Ticket Committee
 E. N. Swett, chairman of the ticket committee, has submitted his report as follows:

Total adult season tickets sold, 545
Cash received from same, $1,992.50
Cash from 94 Junior tickets, 117.50
Total single admissions, 1,113.50
Total receipts, $1,793.50
Amt. paid Sup. F. L. Henderson, 1,113.50
Our share, $681.25

The local association received fifty per cent. on 45 adult tickets, or $56.25, also the first $25.00 on single admissions, giving $81.25 as mentioned in the foregoing.

Her going away dress was peach organdie.

BASEBALL

Twin Town 3; Livermore Falls 2
The best game of the season at the fair grounds was staged Thursday afternoon when both teams struggled in a mighty grip to win. Runs were scarce, in spite of hard hitting and an occasional error.

Nothing in the run making line until Livermore chalked up a lone tally in the third. Twin Town matched this in the fifth and squeezed another in the sixth. Livermore evened things in the seventh for a deadlock.

With the bases packed and two out in the ninth, Livermore looked dangerous. Kennedy, the new second sacker, won immortal fame when he stabbed a hard liner and retired the side without a score. Kennedy also started the rally in the ninth which won it over to the Twins. He drew a pass and purloined second and scored on Robinson's hit.

The game was bristling, not only with actual baseball, but not a little tongue-wagging between the players was served as an additional feature. It sure was bargain day with ear marks of a free for all in the making. The summary:

R. H. E.
Livermore Falls 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—2 12 4
Twin Town 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 1—3 11 2
Batteries (T. T.): Kneeland c, Beck p; (Livermore) Lanpher c, Meader p.
Runs: T. T. 3. By Kneeland, Kennedy, Peel; for Livermore, Talbot 2. Two base hit, Peel. Three base hit, Whitehouse. Mayman 2. Spratt 3; Kennedy, Perry, Robinson 2. Knight. Two base hits: Spratt, White, Perry. Three base hits: Wilson, Comerford, Kennedy. Bases on balls of Spratt 5, off of Knight 4. Struck out by Spratt 2, Knight 2.

Taxis 6; Twin Towns 5
The Twins held the whip end of the game for five innings at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon or until the Lewis-ton-Auburn outfit bunched their wallops and landed four marks in quick succession. Two chances were thrust up to the Twins to at least tie in, but the thing did not become a reality.

The Taxis were out hit and out played but the inevitable timely swatting put them in line to break over. Jack Spratt, the Taxis hurler, was pounded freely and Knight, the batsman for the Twins, had his troubles from heavy stickmen.

The game was a good mixture of keen playing and heavy mauling which gave both supporters a fine chance to rave. Attendance was larger than usual and excitement waxed strong as the visitors brought up a bunch of royal rooster to vie with the local fog horns.

With one gone in the ninth and a score in the air, Gaudette relieved Spratt on the mound. He easily retired the next two Twins and the attempted rally squashed flat.

R. H. E.
Taxis 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—6 9 8
Twins 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0—5 15 0
Batteries (Taxis): Spratt c, Gaudette p. Runs made by Wilson, Comerford 2, Masterman 2, Spratt 3; Kennedy, Perry, Robinson 2. Knight. Two base hits: Spratt, White, Perry. Three base hits: Wilson, Comerford, Kennedy. Bases on balls of Spratt 5, off of Knight 4. Struck out by Spratt 2, Knight 2.

Livermore Falls 7; Twin Towns 2
By winning the game from Billy White's boys Tuesday, Livermore Falls crowded into the king row with both tied for first place in the Tri-County League.

Vargus the new pitcher for Livermore, held the hard hitting Twins to three singles and a double by White. Beck and Hunt for the Norwagites were unable to head off the rush with anything they put on the ball. They held the Livermores to singles, but the swatting counted for runs. Beck's tendency to wildness also went against Billy White's clan.

Talbot, the Bates College star on Livermore, landed five hits on the same number of times up and was high man for the day. Twin Towns played an errorless game, but their hitting was a minus quantity. Summary:

R. H. E.
Livermore Falls 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—7 11 2
Twin Towns 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 4 0
Batteries (Livermore): Lanpher c, Vargus p. T. T.: Welch c, Beck, Hunt p.
Two base hit, White; base on balls of Beck 2, Spratt 1. Hit by Beck 4. Struck out by Beck 2, by Vargus 8.

Ku Klux Klan Lecture
Some five hundred people listened to F. Eugene Farnsworth at Association Hall, Sunday evening, when he lectured on "Americanism, and the Ku Klux Klan." The speaker is a native of Maine, but for several years has been prominent in the Klansmen lecture platform over the country. The past few months he has worked in Maine and lectured to large audiences besides directing the movement. Mr. Farnsworth is considered a brilliant and convincing speaker.

Four white robed figures on the stage added to the impressive service.

The speaker denied that the Klansmen believe in using violence to put America in the hands of Americans. They must win with the ballot and the bible.

American traditions and institutions must be preserved against any destructive influences tending to undermine the Constitution and our Educational foundations.

DATES FROM ANCIENT TIMES

Why the Unmarried Female of Today is Officially Designated by the Word "Spinster."

The word "spinster" comes down from old English times, when the males and females of a family were described as the "spindle side" or "spindle side," from the different occupations of the sexes. While the men worked or fought, the women stopped at home spinning wool or linen.

In those days every woman, whether single or married, was a spinster, because in the literal meaning of the word, her chief work was spinning while the men fought or hunted.

Gradually the word spinster came to mean more especially the unmarried daughters, possibly because it was understood that they were spinning for themselves, and the future "bottom drawer," whereas the word wife meant literally one who had been a weaver, and therefore was not now. Later spinster stood exclusively for the unmarried, and in 1817 it became the legal term for such.

Now days it is very difficult at times to know whether a man is being applauded or "razed."

FISH WASTE

A Valuable Maine Product for Feeding Swine and Poultry

With increased population food materials that were entirely wasted a few years ago are now in great demand. Thirty years ago the chief use of dried blood and meat scraps were in making fertilizers. These, unless of very inferior quality, are now used for food of farm animals. With the increased demand the prices have advanced as the supply is limited. This has led to a search for other materials to supplement or replace these as food. Fish waste or fish of any kind has always been known to be highly nutritious by flesh feeding animals and gives excellent results in growth and in egg production. The great objection to its use in large quantities is the tendency to give the flesh or eggs a fishy flavor. Recent investigations have shown that this fishy flavor is largely due to the fish oil and that when that is quite completely removed as is now the case with the fish meals that are put upon the market, the material can be used in much larger quantities without imparting a disagreeable flavor to be product.

Fish waste has been used in Europe for a number of years for feeding and experiments by the United States Department of Agriculture show that it can be fed freely to poultry without imparting a disagreeable fishy flavor to the eggs. These experiments have shown that fish scrap is a desirable supplementary animal food for farm animals, especially for pigs and poultry.

Large quantities of fish waste are produced along the Maine coast every year and have, for the most part been sold to fertilizer companies in a crude condition. Much of this material, if properly handled, would be a valuable food for animals and a valuable substitute for beef scrap. The results of analyses warrant the following statements about their nutritive value.

The materials differ chiefly in their water content. The protein and fats are in good digestible form. The ash is largely phosphate of lime and is a useful mineral food.

The fresh waste from sardine factories carries about 70 per cent of water, 16 per cent of protein and 8 per cent of fat and about 6 per cent of ash. The ash in fish is practically all phosphate of lime.

The dried fish refuse prepared for food industries carries about 10 per cent of water, 6 per cent of protein, 20 per cent of fat and 17 per cent of ash. This of course would prove to be a valuable food for supplementing the food of swine and poultry.

There is another product intermediary between the fish that comes from the packers' tables and the materials last described, sometimes called Herring Pomace. This is the fish refuse steamed and pressed to extract the oil and without further drying. It carries about 48 per cent of water, 38 per cent of protein, 9 per cent fat and 15 per cent of ash. It is not in nearly as good mechanical condition as the drier material and would not keep as well. It is, however, a more cheaply prepared and, for nearby, situations, would be a satisfactory food for swine or poultry.

If you can't spell "off the bat," the chances are you can't spell any other way.

THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK

Nothing Helped until She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"When my baby was born," says Mrs. Postuszny, 106 High Street, Bay City, Michigan, "I got up too soon. It made me so sick that I was tired of living and the weakness run me down something awful. I could not get up out of bed mornings on account of my back; I thought it would break in two, and if I started to do any work I would have to lie down. I do not believe that any woman ever suffered worse than I did. I spent lots of money, but nothing helped me until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt a whole lot better after the first bottle, and I am still taking it for I am sure it is what has put me on my feet."

If you are suffering from a displacement, irregularities, backache, nervousness, headache or any other form of female weakness you should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, for Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." It will be sent you free upon request. This book contains valuable information.
